DELICATESSEN, GLASS, UPHOLSTERY STORES ARE CITY'S LATEST ADDITIONS

READY . . . for the grand opening Saturday, April 4, is the new Florentine Delicatessen, 21 South Winchester Road, across from Five Spot Drive In. Upholstery, Glass Firm Opens Shop In Campbell

New upholstery and Glass Shop, on Winchester Ave., which had its grand opening yesterday, is run by co-owners Nick DiMuzio and Tom Walter.

The owners, both from Monterey, have been friends for the past nine years. They met while members of the Lighthouse Club, a civic organization in Pacific Grove.

They picked the city of Campbell as a business site after considering towns all along the Pacific Coast. They were impressed, they said, with the growth of the area, both in population and industries, the advantages offered to children, in the way of schools and climate. Most of all, they said, they were impressed with the friendly, neighborly attitude of the Campbellites.

Both owners are married, and intend to settle in Campbell in the near future. Nick and his wife, Jessie, have a daughter, Jacqueline 19, whose husband is a Navy jet pilot now fighting in Korea.

Tom and his wife, LaVerne, have two children, Steve, 12, and a daughter, Barbara, who celebrated her seventh birthday a week ago yesterday.

Both men were in the service, Nick in the Army and Tom in the Navy. Nick served in various Army posts in the United States; Tom, stationed aboard a Navy attack transport, cruised the South Pacific theatre of operations.

The two partners gained experience for their new business in Campbell by working for many years, each at his own specialty. Nick was formerly employed by a large upholstery firm in Monterey. Tom worked for French Glass Co. in the same city.

In their new shop, in the new city of Campbell, adjacent to the equally new Florentine Delicatessen, the new upholstery and glass company will specialize in furniture upholstery repairing of all kinds, with special care taken of antiques. Glass needs of all kinds will also be supplied at the new shop.

MEAN THIEF STEALS CHILD'S BICYCLE HERE

It takes a pretty mean person to steal a child's plaything, and it takes an even meaner one to steal one in which four children share. When that plaything belongs to four members of the same family, the wrong is multiplied fourfold.

A thief made off with a bicycle last week belonging to the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Pulma of 12455 Paseo Cerro in the Quito district.

The bicycle was red and white colored, equipped with an electric light. It was a J. C. Higgin's make. Anyone knowing of its whereabouts is asked to contact either Mrs. Pulma or the Campbell Press.

CHARGE SYSTEM OFFERED BUYERS BY S. J. BANK

First National Bank of San Jose is pioneering a new retail credit charge plan in this area.

The shopper's charge account service, according to figures released by the Journal of American Banking Association, have boosted retailers sales as much as 30 per cent in eastern cities where the plan has been put into effect.

"The system from the consumer's point of view has many desirable features," Joseph Rogers, president of the bank said, "Each user of First National Bank Service is eligible to receive an embossed metal plate similar to those being used by the large oil companies for gasoline charge purposes. This cardoplate will then be used with those local merchants who belong to the service.

"A shopper may then make charge purchases quickly and easily at a number of stores during any month. All sales slips will be sent to the bank and a single monthly statement will be sent to the shopper. She may then pay for all purchases with but one single payment, by mail or in person, which ever is most convenient," Rogers explained.

'Merchants now carrying their own charges will have an opportunity to transfer responsibility to the bank and thus devote their full energies to buying and merchandising.

"The bookkeeping expense and personnel problems attendant upon a small merchant's entry into the charge field will be automatically eliminated by the new service," Rogers said

Meet the Coach

By BOB OLSON

Campbell High's personable young football coach is becoming quite a favorite on the Creamed Chicken Circle" of late. Which athletic banquet hasn't yet asked him to perform as an after dinner speaker? Maybe he's proof that everybody loves a winner (and wants to find out his secrets).

Jim Muir is a P.E. man who looks like one, whether in that sharp tweed business suit he saves to speak in, or the dirty old red jacket he uses when coaching. His enthusiasm for all sports is contagious; he was practically a cheerleader wherever he sat during Campbell's recent basketball games. No one is a better booster of the school or the community.

He likes to sleep late mornings and he can since he lives only two blocks from school. He'd be a homebody if his fans would let him, for he loves to improve the Muir's luxurious living quarters and garden, and is about to move to an even more pretentious abode. When he finds time he's a great companion for his kids, a girl five and a boy a year and three quarters—not to mention his attractive wife, Beverly, whom he met way back in his own high school days.

He's earned his share of athletic letters himself both in high school and college setting records in both track and football. By now everybody must know that he played a lot of football for the University of California at Berkeley (which certainly doesn't explain the Stanford red jacket mentioned above!) and is now Campbell' High's head football coach and assistant track coach.

Before coming to CUHS, Jim built a reputation at Woodland High School coaching J. V. basketball as well as football and track. Besides P.E., Coach Muir is also quite capable of teaching algebra and general math.

Everybody has asked him the reason for his great 1952 football success. And everybody gets the same answer: "It wasn't me; it was the swell group of athletes I worked with; they were willing to work hard and never lost their insatiable desire to win." Jim Muir's sportsmanship must be contagious!

Hittin' the HI -SPOTS

with Wayne Sturtevant

We like to start this column off each week with a bit of good news, and we feel that the best thing that we could ever find to report is the banding together of the people of this community to form a greater city of Campbell . . . Now, there are mounting indications that the transformation of what was once merely a group of people thrown together in one particular area, to a group that are feeling more an dmore the strength that grows through

Civic pride is a wonderful thing. useful and helpful community projects, is gradually taking place. Naturally we are all proud of our individual homes, our families, all of our worldly and God-given possessions; but to be a truly useful citizen we must feel that same pride, perhaps to a lesser degree, in our own community.

The Campbell people, as a whole, are doing just that! They are justly proud of the city they are helping to build. There are many, many examples we could use to prove this point but none would tell the story more aptly than to take a look at the increased number of people on the streets on any given day of the week.

Yes they're shopping in Campbell; they're proving their faith in the merchants of this town by spending their hard-earned dollars right here where they live. After all, isn't that the best way in the world to build a community?

TIDBITS . . . Yep, they're havin' a real hoopla-affair up on Winchester Ave. Saturday . . . The new Florentine delicatessen we told you about last week is opening, and (Gourmets please note) they're givin' away FREE homemade raliolis. So hustle on down there and let Angie, Nadine, or Mom fix you up.

Never saw so many steel clothes line poles in my life as they have down Gilman Street way at the Weldit Shop . . . Nuff to scare the average housewife half to death. But you didn't know that Earl Tyger co-owner down there used to be an old Advertising huckster himself . . . Worked about 20 or more years back with a fella who used to set all sorts of continuous driving records (172 hours at a stretch guaranteed.)

Saw Al Cook, Insurance salesman deluxe, down at Verle Grizzle's Jewelry store, couple of days back and didn't even bother to say hello . . . Didn't feel too bad about it though . . . Al was all decked out in his Auxiliary Policeman's garb and I doubt if his best friends would've recognized him.

Hello to the hundreds of folks out Quito Park and Workmon way who are receiving their first copies of the Press this week . . . Glad to have you in the family.

Vince (Quarantee Shoe Store) Lavios is the living testimonial to the fact that the shoe dye he sells over there stays on and on and on (like Ponds) . . . He spilled a bottle on the floor and spent the better part of Tuesday morning trying to remove it . . . Got the sore knees to prove it too . . .

That's "30" for now. So until next week, a very. very Happy Easter to each and every one of you.

'Cabin Boys' To Benefit Campbell Auxiliary Police

Current question on Campbellite tongues is "Do you have your ticket for the 'Cabin Boy's' concert?" Because the concert, which is scheduled for April 9, 8:15 p.m. at the Campbell Union High School auditorium is very definitely a must on the social, musical, cultural and entertainment calendars this season, and the Cabin Boys very definitely deserve their caption of "Preservers of Negro Idiom."

The concert, which is being sponsored by the Campbell Lions Club, Rosemary Home and School Club, the Campbell Business and Professional Women's Club, is for the Campbell Community Club, and benefit of the Campbell Auxiliary Police force.

Members of the Cabin Boys quartette have already presented 157 concerts to capacity houses and are classed as a unique and classical quartette and men of harmonious skill. Following their local appearance their itinerary calls for coverage of the Pacific and Gulf coast cities and on into Canada.

Tentative program for the April 9 appearance, which will be subject to revision due to audience requests, includes the following selections: "I'm Going Down to the River of Jordon," "Shine on Me," "Ezekiel Saw De Wheel," "Home on the Range," "Laughing Gas," "Kentucky Babe," "Goodby," "None Takes the Veil," "Wind and Girl," "Danny Boy," "Old Black Joe," "Witness," "You Gonna Reap," and "Bye and Bye.".

In addition to the group songs Emanuel Mansfield, first tenor, and director of the group, will sing "Birth of Morn," "Sing a Song of Sixpence" and "Marriage License."

"Hills of Home" will be given as a solo by James Templeton, second tenor of the group who represents the Morris-Brown college in Fiske University.

Singing "Wagon Wheels" will be Theodore Roosevelt Calvin Coolidge Weems, Basso of Morse-Brown college of Atlanta, Georgia, while Livingston Alonzo Lashley, baritone of the group will sing "Moonlight Sonata." Lashley is a teacher at the Williams Conservatory of music in Brooklyn.

Advance ticket sales have indicated a large audience for this outstanding musical event.

Mrs. MILES STANDISH, of Virginia Ave., Campbell, left last Friday for a week's visit to San Diego, to visit her parents. Mrs. Standish is society editor of the Campbell Press.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

While Federal taxes are usually blamed for all the heavy tax burden, there are indications that Washington and Congress may take action to reduce the tax load at the local level.

At present, Federal, State, County and Municipal taxes are taking almost 36% of all income. A large share is state and local taxes. Many local governmental units want to reduce taxes; but in many cases cannot reduce taxes until the Federal government acts.

C. W. Harder

Therefore, Washington is going to watch with interest Senator William Knowland of California in the new session of Congress.

Some in Washington are even inclined to believe Senator Knowland is on "the spot."

He has been presented with force, this problem.

In many states, the Federal government holds so much land, that a heavier share of the tax load falls on the lands that are left in private ownership.

In Senator Knowland's own state of California, the Federal Government now owns one out of every two acres, much of it valuable farmlands, and metropolitan property. Under the law, Federally owned property is tax exempt.

One of the most mentioned examples is the 86,000 acres the army holds at Camp Beale, California. During the last war, the Army moved into the Marysville-Yuba City district, called the Peach Bowl of the world, and took over 86,000 acres, composed of both grazing lands and irrigated lands.

Constant requests have been made to have the Army return the land to production, and thus to the tax rolls. The answer is that there is hopes that some day a "West Point of the Air" will be established at Camp Beale. But at the same time, the army feels that the most land they will ever need is 40,000 acres, yet the Army yet holds onto 86,000 acres.

A great deal of this land back on the tax rolls, would substantially increase the assessed valuation, thus paving the way for a lower tax rate. In the Marysville-Yuba City area, cling peach orchards often produce 20 tons to the acre, or a return at present prices of around $1500 per acre per year. Assessed valuation would be based on this productive capacity.

The drive to get the government out of vast real estate holdings all over the nation is headed up in California, because with one acre out of every two owned by the Federal government, California furnishes the worst example of boosted tax loads.

As expected, the Army is loathe to give up anything, once it has taken over. Congress will have to do the job.

* * *

The military is not the only offender. In many cities throughout the nation various civilian agencies of the government have taken over entire buildings in valuable downtown centers.

It is not expected that the White House will object to any move to cut down on the waste, or freezing of national resources by the military, or any other agency of the government. Although a former Chief of Staff himself, President-elect Eisenhower in his campaigns said that much "fat" could be cut out of the military establishments without jeopardizing safety.

SCOUT CALENDAR LISTS EVENTS

On this month's scouting calendar for members and friends in the Campbell area is a District meeting April 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Campbell High School Domestic Science Room. The annual Camporee set for April 25 and 26; a charter review meeting April 30 at 7:30 p.m., also in the Campbell High School.

The Camping committee has combined with the Commissioner's Staff of the District to organize a "Camporee" which will be a real training event for all.

Two committee members will assist in judging the Camps. Institutionl representatives should let Albert Smith, local director, know who the troop judges will be by the next District meeting on April 9.

A complete bulletin will be sent Unit leaders, which will give all details, but Scouters are asked to begin now to equip every Scout with the tools and know-how for back-packing, weight distribution, packing and weather-proof packs.

April 5 To 17 Is Registration For Moreland

Moreland School District will hold Kindergarten Registration for a two week period beginning April 6th and closing April 17th. Children who will be 4 years 9 months old by Sept. 1st may attend kindergarten next fall. Parents may enroll them at either El Quito Park School, Bucknall Road and Paseo Presada, or at Moreland School, Payne Ave. and Saratoga Road.

Children who will be 5 years 9 months old by Sept. 1st and are not attending kindergarten should be enrolled for first grade.

Early registration is important in order that plans may be made for next fall. The Board of Trustees is planning construction of six more classrooms and an administration unit at El Quito Park School. Bids will be opened and work begun on this project before the close of this school term.
